THIRD SUNDAY OF EASTER - Year C

4th May 2025

Today's gospel is the one that we heard at Pope Francis' funeral. It speaks beautifully of the Petrine ministry as one of nurture and love. As Francis fed his flock of hungry, lonely, thirsty, imprisoned and marginalised sheep, he moved amongst them, taking on their smell. Francis modelled what Jesus asks of Peter, (and all of us) as disciples: extravagant love of God and others.

We hear that Jesus showed himself to the disciples – again. This was the third time since his resurrection and transformation. The disciples were fishing on the Sea of Tiberias, also known as the Sea of Galilee—the place where Jesus calmed the storm, walked on water and called fisher folk to follow him. And now, he fills their nets with fish, when they were unable to catch anything. And he fed them again.

Jesus also gives Peter the chance to proclaim his love for him 3 times. Did Jesus need to hear it, or did Peter need to say it to free himself from the guilt of those 3 denials?

Over these 3 weeks of Easter, we have heard the stories of Mary Magdalene's despair, and perhaps wept with her as at times we wonder, "Why has Jesus gone from my life?" Did the doubting Thomas cause you to question your own unbelief? And Peter's rejection of Jesus...why does that make me squirm, just a little?

But Jesus doesn't let their story (or ours) end in the doldrums. Whilst we don't know exactly what this new way of Jesus' being present looked like, it doesn't hurt to ask why it took time for these disciples, who were his closest friends, to see him, at first. It was in the saying of a name, the wounds, an extravagant and unexpected catch that they recognised him. Christ appeared to them in the ordinary. As Catholics, we believe that God is present in all things when they are viewed with our sacramental imagination. This has been true from the beginning, is true today and will be true tomorrow.

Jesus didn't wait for his friends to be perfect before appearing to them. Again, he came to them just as they were, offering yet another chance to know him, and have a new life through him. And in coming face to face with the risen Christ, Mary, Thomas and Peter were transformed. Grief became joy, doubt was replaced by faith and from fear, love grew. That's what Jesus offers us, too: transformation – again and again. He shows up in our lives, longing to transform us.

The poet, Rumi, suggests that we live with a deep secret that sometimes we know, then not, and then know again. That's a good description of faith.

Faith isn't something you nail down and possess once and for all. Sometimes you walk on water and sometimes you sink. Faith is knowing that Jesus is there to save us from ourselves. If only we can recognise him. I wonder where I will see Jesus today...

The Jubilee Prayer

Father in heaven, may the faith you have given us in your son, Jesus Christ, our brother, and the flame of charity enkindled in our hearts by the Holy spirit, Reawaken in us the blessed hope for the coming of your Kingdom. May your grace transform us into tireless cultivators of the seeds of the Gospel. May those seeds transform from within both humanity and the whole cosmos in the sure expectation of a new heaven and a new earth, when, with the powers of evil vanquished, your glory will shine eternally. May the grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope, a yearning for the treasures of heaven. May that same grace spread the joy and peace of our Redeemer throughout the earth. To you our God, eternally blessed, Be glory and praise for ever. Amen. (Pope Francis)
